SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE.

Sonoma, Sonoma County, Cal., September 3, 1904.

H. H. GRANICE, Editor.

A Political Career is Dark But Alluring.

THE average man is apt to look upon politics as a great thing. True, politics are an important factor in the life of every citizen, for it is the duty of every elector to know the mechanism of the machinery of our government and the character and ability of the men who would engineer it. Many young men, however, are apt to look on demagogues as demigods and indulge in hero worship because a certain politician is prominent in control of factions and has his name in the newspapers continually. He is apt to mistake notoriety for distinction and want to emulate the man who in his eyes is great.

The young man who goes into politics thinking it will make him great takes a very foolish course. Real greatness is seldom reached through the avenue of politics. It is a dark and crooked way through which men most often come out with soiled fingers and besmeared characters. With all this the politician may have a few dollars in his pocket and he may not. The temptations along the political highway are many, but there are some few honest men who scorn bribes and inducements sought by their fellows.

The young man who goes into politics must be stalwart indeed to be one of these. The average is not. He might better brave the dens of thieves or seek the company of other criminals than associate himself with politics. The man who is known to be a thief is not half the menace to society as is the man whose criminality is covered by a political toga.

THE fact that campaign leaders this fall are bidding for the votes of women in those states where the fair sex have the right of franchise is significant of the recognition of woman suffrage. Pamphlets are being prepared by the Republican National Committee exclusively for women and the arguments for protection and the various issues of the campaign are based on facts known to the housewife, such as the price and quality of the different commodities. The woman's interests are appealed to so that any woman may understand just what is at stake. The issuing of literature adapted to the woman voter goes to show that party leaders do not altogether depend upon the men of the household to sway their wives and sisters and cousins and aunts and mother-in-laws in the matter of political opinions. It goes to show that they would have women intelligent and not sentimental voters.

CALENDAR DAY IN SUPERIOR COURT

On Monday last Judge Burnett presided in both departments of the Superior Court.

In Department One permission was granted to file amended demurrers in the Petaluma-Santa Rosa Railway Company's case.

The will of the late Mary E. Harford was admitted to probate and Crystal Harford was appointed executrix without bonds.

An order was made authorizing the guardian of Gladys Simon to erect a cottage at a cost not to exceed $1,500.

A petition to sell personal property of the estate of David Burris was granted.

The matter of the estate of Nevel Daniels was dropped from the calendar.

Joseph Duerson was named administrator on the estate of Louisa A. Duerson in a bond of $1,800.

The papers in the Lydia Wickerham case were ordered sent to Superior Judge Seawell's court in San Francisco.

These probate matters were continued:

Estate of Elsie Book, Mary Andrews, Priscilla Wilson, Sarah V. Joy and Swan Erickson, all to September 6th.

In Department Two default was entered in the action of Moore vs. Moore.

The trial of the action of the City of Petaluma vs. Mrs. White et al., was set for Sept. 15th.

An order to file amended demurrers in the actions of Walker, Fredricks and Dunham vs. P. & S. R. R. Co. was granted.

The matter of the estate of Catherine Slattery was continued to September 13th.

Sad Accident.

Wm. Mobley, a brother-in-law of Fayette Mitchell formerly of this place and brother of Miss Mobley a Stanford girl who has been canvassing for a well-known book firm here the past month, was killed at the Gwin mine at Coloma, near Angels Camp, last Saturday. The young man, who was but twenty-one years of age, had a fainting spell and fell down the shaft of the mine, a distance of 2000 feet. Mobley's father is Rev. D. A. Mobley, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Fowler.

Entertained by H. Francis

A number of ladies and gentlemen were entertained by Harry Francis on Saturday night last at Boyes Hot Springs. The party was invited to take a swim in the new plunge tank which has just been completed. All had a jolly time and pronounced the bathing fine. After the swim refreshments were served. The following were in the party: Mr. and Mrs. Adlot, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Weems, Miss Bessie Brady, Miss Bertha McGimsey, Mrs. McMullin, Will Clewe.

Ayer's

You know the medicine that makes pure, rich blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Your mother, grandmother, all your folks, used it. They trusted it. Their doctors trusted it. Your doctor trusts it. Then trust it yourself. There is health and strength in it.

Sarsaparilla

"I suffered terribly from indigestion and thin blood. I found no relief until I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Four bottles permanently cured me."

Rich Blood

Ayer's Pills are gently laxative. They greatly aid the Sarsaparilla.

HOW TO BECOME BEAUTIFUL

To Perfect Your Figure.

A famous physician, in speaking of health, beauty, and a good figure, said:

"In my experience many American women have not the strength to take up outdoor sports, many lack the inclination for active physical exertion, household cares or office work—they feel languid, tired and worn-out by the weaknesses so common to their sex. Some women have household duties which keep them shut up at home. For all such persons I should advise a few simple daily exercises, with light dumbbells, devoting only ten minutes of the day to it at first, and gradually increasing it until they find that their whole being is stimulated and strengthened by it. If the young girl—or the matron—is troubled at certain periods with irregularity, weakening drains, and backache—perhaps faint and dizzy spells—then she should take something medicinally to correct these faults. Nothing could be better than a prescription which Dr. R. V. Pierce used in his large practice for many years, in the diseases of women. This 'Favorite Prescription' of Dr. Pierce has had an immense sale for the past thirty-six years, because of its uniform success in the cure of women's diseases, and because of the many thousand women who have attested to its merit. Being made entirely of extracts of roots and herbs, without alcohol, it is perfectly harmless to the most delicate system, and the best ready-to-hand remedy in the market."

"To insure perfect health, every tissue, bone, nerve, tendon, or muscle should take from the blood certain materials for its nourishment and growth. Every organ must have its period of activity and of rest, so as to circulate the vital fluid in a proper manner to nourish every part. This is why I believe in advising every woman to take gentle exercise out of doors or indoors. If the functions are not regular or the pains are severe then she should at once use a reliable remedy."

Mrs. A. DELYEA, of Rockland, New Brunswick, said:

"I suffered more than a year from nervousness and functional derangement. Had pains in the left side of abdomen all the time. Some days could hardly get around. Kept my bed about half the time. I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and got his advice for which I have ever been thankful. I began taking 'Favorite Prescription' right away as he advised. It makes me sleep well at night which I never did before, and I feel rested. Can truthfully say Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has cured me."

Mrs. O. O. SCRIPTURE, of Prescott, Arizona, said:

"Words cannot express how grateful I am for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me. For nearly ten years I was a great sufferer with ulceration and sickness peculiar to women. I doctored for several years; got no better until I began taking the 'Prescription.' Now I can stand on my feet and work hard all day. I feel that life is worth living, and shall always recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines."

ADVICE TO MARRIED WOMEN. You should have a good medical book that tells you about anatomy, wifehood and motherhood. Read Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advisor. It contains over 1000 pages. A copy, paper-covered, may be obtained absolutely FREE, by sending 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing ONLY. If French cloth binding is desired, send for stamps extra (31 cents in all), to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Equal Rights Club will hold its regular meeting Tuesday, September 6th, at the home of Miss Wooster. Matters of importance will be discussed and every member is requested to be present.
Jos. Keecher, manager of the Pacific Reclamation Company's ranch at McGill's, occupied a $15 seat at the Jeffries-Munroe fight in the Mechanics' Pavilion, San Francisco, on Friday night of last week. He sat very close to the fighters and observed them keenly. He says that when Jeffries jumped into the center of the ring for the first round he shook himself like an enraged bull and glared savagely at Munroe as though he would like to eat him up. Munroe quailed with fear, his limbs trembled and he was evidently a defeated man before even a blow was struck.

Road Will be Open To-Night
Tunnel No. 2 on the California Northwestern railway, which caved in last week and has caused the road to be closed between San Rafael and Tiburon the past ten days, has been almost entirely repaired and trains are expected to go through to day or to-morrow. The work of repairing the tunnel has been no small task and the services of several engineers had to be secured before any headway could be made in throwing the road open to traffic on the south side of the tunnel.

PLIGHTED TROTH ON SUNDAY AT HIGH NOON.

Julie Granice Becomes the Bride of Dr. Sprague at the Palace Hotel

On Sunday last at high noon at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco Miss Julie Hortense Granice and Dr. Fred. Fellows Sprague plighted their troth. The wedding was solemnized by Rev. Geo. C. Adams, pastor of the First Congregational Church in the presence of a few relatives. Owing to the recent death of the bride's mother the affair was very quiet, but the young couple have been the recipients of many congratulatory letters and telegrams.

Miss Granice is the second daughter of H. H. Granice of the Index-Tribune and has been prominent in social and musical circles in Sonoma Valley. Dr. Sprague is a leading physician here and was formerly in the United States Army as a surgeon.

Dr. and Mrs. Sprague will reside in Sonoma on Spain street.

For the Assembly.

The card of Chas. O. Dunbar, Democratic nominee for Assemblyman Fourteenth District, appears elsewhere in these columns. Mr. Dunbar is the present incumbent, having been elected two years ago by a handsome majority. At the last session of the Legislature Assemblyman Dunbar proved himself to be a worker for the people in general and for his constituency in this district in particular. He is a Native Son, a member of many fraternal societies and is one of the owners of the Press Democrat of Santa Rosa. Charley is a rising young man and a mighty good fellow too, but he might be better yet if he were only a Republican.

Woman's Club

The educational section of the Woman's Club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. G. H. Hotz, chairman of that section. There was a discussion on school sanitation and school decoration; also, on the matter of a branch county hospital for Sonoma. The afternoon was spent very pleasantly and at the conclusion of business discussion Mrs. Hotz served delicious water iced to her guests.

At last we have our free postal delivery. Don't we look swell with our new delivery boxes? Our carrier has a new horse, too. What will our young folks do now for an excuse to go to the Glen Ellen post-office?

Misera! malaria! misery! Great Scott! is there anything like it in the heavens above or the earth beneath? You just feel it and then you write. Why whole volumes could be written and then not half be said of that horrible sickness. Aunt Milly calls it "de misery of de bones." The one who experiences it thinks it the misery of the whole body. Like the sea-sick victim in the first stages, the sufferer feels sure he is going to die. Afterward he is afraid he is not going to die. The depression, the weakness, the sensations of falling, dropping, sinking, floating and all sorts of unnatural predicaments; the wheels in your head that never cease grinding, buzzing and humming—the music and thunder all mixed up together; the mercury and doses of white, bitter quinine, arsenic, strychnine and other unpalatable bile removers. After a while when the drugs have done their work, although every bone in your body seems crushed and sore, a hazy feeling of thankfulness steals over one's senses that you are yet alive; but oh, so weak. Visions of mince pies, cold turkey and big pans of pork and beans float through the brain at night and for hours during the day dreams. You languidly stretch forth your hand to grasp and possess these edibles but they glide away like all bright visions and you are brought to a sense of your helplessness and weakness. But I will leave this subject to an abler pen than mine. Hereafter I shall add when repeating the Litany, "From sickness and sudden death and malaria good Lord deliver us."

SONOMA'S NEW CITY HALL TO THE FORE.

Board of City Trustees to Meet Wednesday and Receive Plans.

The City Trustees meet in regular monthly session next Wednesday evening. Among other matters that will engage their attention will be the construction of the proposed new city hall. Plans and specifications for a two-story edifice to be constructed of stone will be presented to the Trustees by A. C. Lugens and other competing architects and the successful competitor will receive a bonus of $50.

Should a plan be presented that will prove satisfactory to the Board work on Sonoma's new city hall will not doubt be commenced without delay. The advertised plans call for a structure to cost $8,000.

Once ground is broken for the structure it will mark a new era in Sonoma's progress. For years the building of a new city hall and other necessary public improvements have been advocated in these columns and it is with some degree of satisfaction that after years of apparently fruitless effort on the part of Sonoma's newspaper we now realize that its work in that direction has not been in vain.

Give Sonoma her new city hall and electric street lights without delay, and let the good work go bravely on.

A Canard.

The marriage of Gus Weyl and Miss Pauline Robin of this place, a report of which is going the rounds of the county papers, is a canard. No such wedding has taken place and the young folks are not even engaged to be married.

Miss Robin is very indignant over the matter and several of our contemporaries may have a civil damage suit for libel on their hands. We would suggest—that hereafter when they copy Sonoma news that they clip from these columns and not from any old thing that happens along. If they do this they Sonoma items will be readable and reliable.

The Play Was Good

The Presentation Convent entertainment given on Saturday night was one of the best ever given in this valley. The program was splendid and included the farce, "A Box of Monkeys," which was played by a cast from San Francisco. The costuming and acting would have done credit to professionals. Those who took part were Misses Anna Mullery, Mary Whalen, May McSorley and Messrs. Hugh McCann, Stanislaus Reilly and Jack Rafter.

Death of an Infant

Patrick James Ahern, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Ahern, died in this place Thursday morning. The little fellow was aged 5 months and 27 days. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of the grieving parents. The interment was in the Mountain Cemetery.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Sprague returned from their wedding trip on Thursday evening and are residing in the Schocken home on Spain street.

Young Plants

Every farmer knows that some plants grow better than others. Soil may be the same and seed may seem the same but some plants are weak and others strong.

And that's the way with children. They are like young plants. Same food, same home, same care but some grow big and strong while others stay small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion offers an easy way out of the difficulty. Child weakness often means starvation, not because of lack of food, but because the food does not feed.

Scott's Emulsion really feeds and gives the child growing strength.

Whatever the cause of weakness and failure to grow—Scott's Emulsion seems to find it and set the matter right.

Wm. Chance, the well known jockey, was a visitor to this place Sunday. Billy says that "Lumpy Jim," El Verano's race horse, is doing well in San Francisco. The nag will be brought up here on the 9th of September to compete with Sonoma's thoroughbreds.

The owner of "Roxy Murphy," El Verano's race horse, wants to see the yellow metal. He is tired of this hot-air horse talk emanating from the vicinity of Schellville and means business. Any one desiring to talk sensible horse talk should call at the blacksmith shop in this town and dig up the coin. In the language of the pugilist, "shut up or put up."

Arthur S. Whiting, the well-known bicycle repairer, and Guy Weems were visitors here Saturday. While in town they visited P. Forni's roadside resort to have a look at that royal Bengal tiger. Whiting pronounced it the most magnificent animal he had ever laid eyes on and was loud in his praise of Mr. Forni, who has the only menagerie in town (on paper).

LUCKY LIVERYMAN RECOVERS STOLEN PROPERTY.

G. S. Harris Hires Out Rig,
Which is Sold, but Seized as Buyer Drives into Town

Granville Harris is a lucky liveryman for he has recovered a horse and buggy which was rented from him on Wednesday of last week by a man and woman, summer guests at Lawrence Villa, who in turn sold the rig in Elmira, Solano county, to a Santa Rosa man for $50.

The team was rented for a short drive, so Harris hitched up one of his best rigs, which is valued at $200, and the man who hired it drove off with his woman companion. From here they went direct to Elmira and there, it is narrated by the purchaser, the woman urged her escort to sell the outfit so that they could raise some ready money.

The buyer, who was on his way to the hop fields near Santa Rosa, heard that the rig could be bought for fifty dollars and after examining the horse and inspecting the buggy and harness concluded he had struck "a good thing," and having closed the deal, jumped into the stolen rig and started for Santa Rosa.

While passing through town on Saturday last the eagle eye of Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan, who is connected with the stable, fell upon the team and he immediately recognized it as the stolen property.

The driver was informed of the theft and when he had exchanged stories with Ryan came to the conclusion that he had been the only "good thing" in the deal.

Officers are now endeavoring to locate the thief and his female companion. They are said to be traveling around under several aliases.

The Oakdale High School, in which Frido Clewe of this place was formerly a teacher, was burned to the ground one day last week.

Miss Marcella Glazier, formerly a teacher in the Sonoma High School, has been visiting the Lowells at their farm on the Napa road.

Miss Geo. Engler and Miss Amy Engler returned from the metropolis Monday evening after a delightful visit with friends and relatives.

Miss Nellie Gordenker, who is studying to become a trained nurse in the Woman's Hospital of San Francisco, visited Mrs. L. H. Green Sunday.

Garrett Hyatt, formerly employed on the Fair ranch near here, was recently married and held a reception in honor of the event Sunday afternoon at his Petaluma home.

Miss Mae Landy, who has been visiting relatives in Stockton, has returned to her home in Petaluma. Miss Landy formerly resided here and is the sister of Capt. Jas. Landy of Stockton.

Miss Edna Corbaley of the State of Washington, who has been visiting California relatives and friends for the past month, was the guest of Mrs. Fanny McG. Martin in Santa Rosa last week.

A marriage license was issued in Santa Rosa on Tuesday to August Clerici, aged 28, and Annie Castagnasso, aged 18. The wedding will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Castagnasso, the bride-to-be's parents in this place, on the 10th inst.

Mrs. Carl Walliser and her son Alfred of Oakland were visiting Sonoma friends Sunday. Alfred Walliser is in the employ of a large mercantile house in San Francisco but resides across the bay in the handsome home recently erected on Telegraph avenue by Dr. and Mrs. Walliser.

Dr. and Mrs. Gottenberg, Mrs. Burlingame and Miss Mayel Lowell, who have been on a camping trip through Sonoma, Lake and Mendocino counties, have returned home. They were cordially received at several of the large resorts, particularly at Soda Bay, at which Mr. and Mrs. Burlingame were one time the proprietors.

Mrs. Buss of Mill Valley has been visiting Philip Bill and family the past week. Mrs. Buss is the widow of John Buss, who was killed by an electric shock in their bakery in Mill Valley about a year ago, and for whose death she was awarded $5,000 damages by the court in a suit brought against the electric company in Marin county.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL MATTERS.

E. Gilbert was in town this week. Jos. Ryan and Henry Weyl visited the metropolis Sunday.

Arthur S. Whiting visited the wife in San Francisco on Sunday.

SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE.

Sonoma, Sonoma County, Cal., September 3, 1904.

H. M. GRANICE, Editor.

Their Hatred of England.

Ferdinand de Lesseps used to tell how a Frenchman came to his aid when he was struggling against Palmerston's opposition to the Suez canal. The man, who was a total stranger, walked into his office one day and drew out of his pocket a wallet stuffed with bank notes. "Monsieur," said he, "I beg the privilege of being allowed to subscribe to the railway of the island of Sweden." "But, monsieur," said Lesseps, "it is not a railroad; it's a canal. It's not an island, but an isthmus. It is not in Sweden, but at Suez." "I don't care what it is or where it is," said the capitalist, "so long as it worries England. Put me down, I say."

Blotted by Puppets.

Toward the close of the reign of Elizabeth, when the Spaniards were frequently hovering about the southwest coast of England, a party from their ships landed in the neighborhood of where Falmouth stands today, with the intention of burning the borough of Penryn. It chanced, however, that some evening some strollers had set up in Penryn market place a representation by puppets of certain incidents in the life of Samson, including his victory over the Philistines. At the point of Samson's onset upon these with the jawbone of the ass the strollers beat drums and sounded trumpets indicative of an alarm, and the Spaniards, who were at that moment about to rush the town, believing it to be full of soldiers, bolted for their boats.

Sport on the Kafre River.

A trader in ivory and rubber writes as follows of sport on the Kafre river, in Africa: "Every morning at daybreak we got up and scanned the plains with our glasses for game. Often our boys called us first to say that a herd of water buck or hartbeest was grazing in sight, especially if the camp was out of meat. The river was full of fish—barbel, bream, pike and tiger fish. The bream were by far the best eating, but the tiger fish and big barbel gave the best sport. Spoon bait, with strong pike tackle and a stiff bamboo rod, was all that was required, and, trolling behind a dugout paddled by natives, we could soon make a bag. The tiger fish fight gamely and, breaking water repeatedly, very often succeed in shaking the hook from their mouths. Barbel run up to eighty pounds weight, and a heavy one can tow a canoe along the surface at some speed."

A Penitent Rent Payer.

Michael Davitt in his "Fall of Feudalism in Ireland" gives the following as a sample of the letters that used to reach the Land League offices in the good old days: "Ballinrobe, Mayo, Jan. 8, 1881. To the Honorable Land League—Gentlemen, in a moment of weakness I paid me rent. I did not no there was a law against it or I wud not do it. The people pass by me dure as if the small pox was in the house, I heer ye do givin pardons to min that do rong, and if ye will send me a pardon to put in the windy for every one to rede it I will never komit the crime again. Mister Scrab Naly will give me a Karacthur if ye write to him at Bal."

Bridges in Korea.

Some idea of the delights of traveling in Korea is given by the following description by a traveler of the "bridges" in that country: A first class bridge in Korea is simply an assortment of planks nailed together. These are scarce. A second class bridge is a series of isolated stones, from one to another of which the visitor may jump. A third class bridge, much the commonest variety, is invisible, its position being indicated by a couple of posts, one on each side of the river. They mean that you may safely wade across, as the water will probably—not go much above your chest!

Cannon of 1812.

Cannon were small, measured by modern standards, in 1812, but the Ohio world was quiet, and the pioneers had keen senses. There is much evidence that the guns of Perry's squadron were heard by settlers living at least thirty-five miles east of Cleveland, or nearly 100 miles in an air line from the scene of the famous fight which gave the control of the lakes above Niagara falls to the Americans and did much to save the northwest for the United States.

All Have Troubles.

"Everybody worries about money." "Oh, I don't know. Some men are so rich!" "That's just it. Poor men worry because they can't get money, and the rich man worries for fear that it will get away from him."—Philadelphia Ledger.

In Plain English.

Doctor—I found the patient to be suffering from abrasion of the cuticle, tumefaction, ecchymosis and extravasation in the integument and cellular tissue about the left orbit. Judge—You mean he had a black eye? Doctor—Yes.

Just plain, ordinary stubbornness often masquerades as strength of character.—Arlington Globe.

BLOTTING PAPER.

It Was Known and Used as Far Back as the Year 1600.

There is a pretty prevalent belief that blotting paper is a modern invention; that a hundred years ago it was unknown, white sand being used in its stead. Blotting paper, as a matter of fact, was a recognized convenience of the writing desk as far back as 1675. In that year there was issued a book called "Townsend's Proprietary to Pleading," a copy of which is in the possession of a Chicago antiquary, and this volume contains on page 8 the following paragraph: "Let the dusting or sanding in books be avoided, rather using fine brown paper to prevent blotting if time of the ink's drying cannot be allowed, for sand takes away the good color of the ink, and, getting into the backs of books, makes them break their binding."

The sand that was used for blotting in the past was, the Chicago antiquary says, very clean and white and fine, and it was called silver sand. It was kept in a cruet with a perforated lid, like a salt cruet, and thence it was sifted over the wet writing. An odd thing about it was that the ink never seemed to stain it. It could be used over and over and it remained to the end as white as snow.

BATTLE STANDARDS.

So Ancient That Their Use Is Mentioned in the Bible.

The custom of carrying flags or standards in battle dates back at least to 1490 B. C. We find in Numbers 11, 2, that "every man of the children of Israel shall pitch by his own standard with the ensign of his father's house." Each standard of the twelve tribes thus distinguished was supposed to have been of a color to correspond with the stone in Aaron's breastplate which bore the name of that tribe. Under the generic name banner are included many species, such as standard, ensign, pennon, flag, etc. These have been used from earliest times and in all countries to direct movements of troops. The earliest Roman standard was a bundle of straw fixed to the top of a spear. This was succeeded by figures of animals, such as the horse and the bear, which soon gave place to the eagle, the chief Roman ensign, afterward assumed by the German and French emperors. By every warlike people the banner has been regarded as an emblem of national honor, in defense of which each soldier was at all times ready to die, while banners and flags taken from the enemy have always been special trophies of victory to which places of honor in public buildings have been assigned.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in case of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite if not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn, it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a quick recovery. For sale by R. G. Shoults, Sonoma, Cal.

Useless Labor.

"Don't be afraid of making me angry by telling me your candid opinion of my verses, old fellow. Criticism doesn't make any difference with me." "I know that, my dear boy, but the trouble is that it doesn't make any difference with your verses either."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Singular and Plural.

"Funny! There was a time when the barbers used to speak of my hair." "You mean before you began to get bald?" "Yes. Now they speak of my hairs."—Philadelphia Press.

Abscess.

W. H. Harrison, of Cleveland, Miss., writes, August 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg. So one day I went to J. F. Lord's store (who is now in Denver, Col.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment. I got a 50-cent size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world." Abscesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility. They may, however, result from blows or from foreign bodies introduced into the skin or flesh, such as splinters, thorns, etc. Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

Rose of Olden Time.

In the very long ago rose were not stockings now worn, but made long and were often drawn up even to the waist, and, oddly enough, had pockets in their sides. We read, moreover, that in the time of the Tudors and Stuarts they were of great variety, both of material and color, and for such as could command the luxury were richly trimmed and costly; they were often called "nether stocks."

In Praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlet of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend Mr. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved, and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you for the booklet of your part for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind." For sale by R. G. Shoults, Sonoma, Cal.

BOOTS AND SPURS.

Quaint Account of Hungarian Cavalry in Olden Days.

A contemporary manuscript account of the diet of Bratislava, held in 1530 by the Emperor Ferdinand II, on the occasion of the landing of Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden in Germany, mentions as a remarkable fact that the Hungarian cavalry who rode through the streets to the ceremonial wore their spurs on their boot soles.

It is difficult to credit that these spurs were fixed on the flat of the boot, for thus shod the horsemen could neither walk nor stand, especially when the large size of the spurs worn at the period is considered. Probably the writer intended to indicate that instead of being fastened to the heel in the usual fashion they were made to project from the fore part of the military boot, which is a portion of the sole.

Frederick von Raumer, who quotes this in his "History of the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries," illustrated by Original Documents, passes the matter over without comment. The same manuscript adds that the Hungarian horses had their manes, tails and feet painted red.

Ancient Drinking Gulls.

It is gravely said by an authority that the Dutch gulls, the most ancient of workmen's organizations, had their origin in the drinking gulls, which, although they did not, as in the case of the Greeks and Romans, exalt drink to the rank of a deity, made it a kind of civic dignity. These drink gulls and drink brethren existed from the earliest times until the latter part of the sixteenth century, when their excesses led to their suppression. It is held that men who worked together drank together and thus formed the primitive club which developed into the guild.—Notes and Queries.

Neglected Colds.

Every part of the mucous membrane—the nose, throat, ears, head and lungs, is subjected to disease and blight from neglected colds. Ballard's Homeopathic Syrup is a pleasant and effective remedy. 25c. 50c. $1. W. Kendrick, Valley Mills, Tex., writes, "I have used Ballard's Homeopathic Syrup for coughs and colds. It is a pleasant and most effective remedy." Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

Money Thrown Away.

"So that city doctor helped ye right smart, did he, Silas?" asked Mrs. Giles on her husband's return from a week's visit to a specialist in a neighboring town.

"Well, I guess he did. I'm feeling fine as a fiddle now, an' he says I won't likely have any return of it if I just keep ter what he tells me." "What did he say was the matter with ye?" inquired the wife eagerly. "I forgot now what he called it, but—"

"Silas," she cried, "ye don't reddy mean ter say ye paid out all that money an' didn't git no good of it after all!"—Exchange.

Beautiful Women.

Pump cheeks, flushed with the soft glow of health and love, make all women beautiful. Take a small dose of Herbine after each meal; it will prevent constipation and help digest what you have eaten. See Mrs. Wm. M. Stroud, Midlothian, Texas, writes, May 31, 1901, "I have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and found it the best medicine we ever used for constipation, bilious fever and malaria. Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal."
